Subject 2008-087

Please do not retire code eur as of request 2008-087.

There is quite some published materials using Europanto in Brussels newspapers. Writing about it and quoting it in internet sites needs an appropriate language code. Otherwise speech synthesizers, search programs, indexing programs, and other will not be able to function properly since there would be no way to identify the language.

Since at least for linguist publications (and some fun for general public, certainly, too) referring to Europanto both as a concept and in the form of samples of text, is useful, we cannot do without a language code.

Greetings.
